Frequently Asked Questions

Q: What does this mean for voters?

The 2018 Remedial Congressional Plan only changes the congressional districts for the upcoming election. Otherwise, you'll still vote in the same location. Your polling place did not move with the recent congressional district changes.

Q: Who is my current representative?

Your current representative in Congress will remain the same until a new representative has been elected in the 2018 November Election and begins their term in January 2019.

Q: How can I find out what district I'm in now?

Under the new map, a majority of counties lie fully within a single congressional district, so county list located below voters in those counties can find that information on the .

interactive map below

In counties that are split, the will be sufficient for many voters to identify their district.

Voters who are unsure of their congressional district, or if they live in a split municipality or county election office ward, should call their (<http://votespa.com/county>) to check their new district by residential address.

Q: What does this mean for the Primary election on May 15?

When you vote in the primary election on May 15, 2018, you will be voting for a party by county candidate in your new congressional district. You can explore the new districts , by district number Google map , and/or via a .

Q: Does the redistricting affect other representatives and elected officials, like the State House, State Senate, City Council, etc.)?

No. The Remedial Congressional Redistricting only changes the district numbers and borders for the U.S. House of Representatives.

Q: How is the November general election affected?

The only difference is the change in congressional district boundaries. Voters will choose their new congressional representative in November based on the boundaries of the Remedial Congressional maps. Otherwise, the election will not change. You can explore the

by county, by district number, Google map
new districts, , and/or via a .

Q: Where will I go to vote?

Your polling place has not changed. You may continue to use the same polling place that is listed on your voter registration card or you can find your polling place at:

votespa.com/polls

(<http://votespa.com/polls>) .

Q: Will I need a new voter registration card?

No, your current voter registration card is still valid.

Q: My district number has changed; does that mean my representative changed?

Your current congressional representative did not change. The recent change only impacted congressional districts for the 2018 election. Voters will have an opportunity in the Primary and General elections to cast a vote for a candidate to represent them in the next term of Congress.
